CHAOTIC RETRIEVERS

Here at Chaotic Retrievers we are a relatively small kennel, with a lot of 1 on 1 time. Because of this we are able to bond with each dog. We are here to provide the best retriever possible. We are located in Weiser Idaho in the Treasure Valley a couple miles from the Snake River. My goal is to make the best gun dogs on the river. We get our hunting dogs on live hunting action whether pigeons or ducks. Our client dogs get out in the real world hunting scenarios, so that when they go home they have all the tools they need.

Welcome to Valley County, Idaho

Valley County is a rural county located in west-central Idaho. Established in 1917, it was named after the North Fork of the Payette River, which extends over 30 miles from Payette Lake at McCall south to Cascade and on to Round Valley. The valley was formerly a summer pasture for livestock from the Boise area. Since completion of Cascade Dam in 1948, much of the northern valley has been covered by the Cascade Reservoir. From the 1910s, logging, farming and ranching were the economic mainstays of the county, however changes in federal policy have virtually eliminated timber harvest on National Forest System lands. This has resulted in a shift to a recreation based economy.

Although the valley portion of the county contains ranches and farms, many visitors are surprised to learn that 91% of the county is public land. 88% of Valley County is contained in portions of the Payette, Boise, and Salmon-Challis National Forests, while 3% is state land. The county, with the exception of some flat land along the rivers, is a high and rugged area ranging from rolling wooded plateaus to 10,000 foot peaks along the Middle Fork of the Salmon River.

This expanse of public land makes Valley County a recreation paradise, suited for nearly every form of outdoor activity. Hiking, backpacking, mountain biking, Alpine and Nordic skiing, whitewater rafting/kayaking, snowmobiling, camping, hunting and fishing combine to make the area a year round playground which has resulted in the small communities of McCall and Cascade becoming popular recreation destinations. Three Alpine ski areas, as well as several excellent golf courses, serve the area. A network of roads and trails on public land offers use by off-road vehicles, motorcycles, horses and hiking, while over 500 miles of trails are groomed for snowmobile use in winter.

Located in the geographical center of the state, the county is still very rural. There are only two traffic lights in the county (both in McCall), and the permanent county-wide population is only about 10,400. As visitors come to the area on summer holidays and during the McCall winter Carnival, the population of McCall can grow to over 60,000. Luckily, the 2021 Master National occurs after the summer peak of visitors and before deer and elk seasons. You should enjoy our beautiful fall weather , with seasonable day and cool night temperatures. We hope you enjoy our county!

-About Our Pin-

Many folks have described the location of the 2021 Master National as being in McCall, Idaho, which is the location of one of the largest and most popular AKC hunt tests in the west. Every July, the Treasure Valley Hunting Retriever Club hosts an event that offers double header tests in junior, Senior and Master stakes.

In planning the 2021 Master National event, however, we recognized the need for a much larger venue, and expanded to include all of Valley County, Idaho. Only by using land throughout the county have we been able to put the event together.

Landowners from Cascade, Donnelly and McCall graciously have allowed the use of their lands for both training and testing. Even though there are training sites located in nearby Adams and Idaho counties, the focus of this event is clearly Valley County. The cities of Cascade (the county seat), and the largest city in the county, McCall, have been important parts of providing logistic support. Tamarack Resort, a popular destination resort near Donnelly, will host several gatherings, and the host hotel, the Holiday Inn, is in McCall.

In designing the pin for this year's event, we started with the state of Idaho and the location of Valley County central within it. The red, white and blue background colors copy the generic Idaho license plate, and the logos of both the Master National Retriever Club and the host Treasure Valley Hunting Retriever Club are prominently displayed. With this pin, we recognize the efforts throughout Valley County, the State of Idaho, and both clubs.

Sporting Dog and Falconry Training Permit

Dog trainers using pen-raised birds are required to obtain a free permit. We have arranged a blanket permit with Idaho Fish & Game that covers all 276 handlers entered in the 2021 Master National. A copy of this permit is included in this guide, and must be in handlers' possession while training. There is a youth and veteran waterfowl hunt on September 25/26. The permit on public land does not cover these two days to ensure we don't interfere with these hunters.

Also, anyone shooting flyers must have either a hunting license or a nongame hunting license. Only those shooting flyers in training or at the test need a license. We recommend purchase of a nonresident nongame hunting license, available for $39 at license outlets such as Ridley's in McCall or Tackle Tom's in Cascade.

Valid Permit Dates:

Private Land sites 1-17: September 20,2021 – October 10,2021

Public Land sites: September 20-24,2021, September 27-October 1, 2021, October 4-9, 2021

Other Considerations:

-Please consider training away from Cascade reservoir after Oct 2nd to allow local waterfowl hunters opportunity to hunt.

-If any handlers wish to train in areas not designated on this permit, they will need to come into the IDFG office and apply for their own permit.

PERMIT

Training/Test Site General Rules Regulations

-A Guide to the Use of Training Properties-

The following "Guidelines" list important considerations for the use of the pre-Master National Training Grounds and the Master National Hunt Test Grounds. All of these grounds were made available for the event by their property owners for the betterment of the community and their love of dogs. These rules and regulations are certainly not all inclusive of every possible situation that may arise. Please use common sense, and above all, professional courtesy while on the properties and when coming in contact with others on the properties. We are guests and we must utilize the properties with the least amount of intrusiveness possible. The Training Property sites are open from 8 AM – 5pm, September 24 until September 30

1. SMOKING OUTSIDE OF YOUR VEHICLE IS STRICTLY PROHIBITED on the Test Grounds and ALL Training Property Grounds. NO EXCEPTIONS.
2. SEE "SHEEP IN IDAHO" AS WELL AS INSTRUCTIONS ON INDIVIDUAL PROPERTIES.
3. The Use of these grounds shall be coordinated through the random draws for property use.
4. No one may contact the owners for individual or group use or access these properties except through the Hunt Test Committee.
5. The regulations listed for each property in the training catalog are in addition to these general guidelines.
6. Unless instructed otherwise, please close and secure all gates at all times.
7. Keep vehicles to the edges of fields and away from pond banks. Access fields only with UTV's or 4-wheelers if available.
8. Be wary of livestock and neighbors.
9. Never shoot in the direction of any visible residence.
10. Remove all of your trash, including spent shells, dead birds and any other trash you find. Do not leave food scraps or spilled dog food on the grounds. Some properties specifically prohibit feeding on the grounds due to moving wildlife. WE DO HAVE MOUNTAIN LIONS AND WOLVES IN THE AREA!!
11. Stay well-away from kennels and residences unless otherwise directed by property owners.
12. By entering any of these properties you acknowledge the risks inherent in outdoor sports whether such risks are apparent or hidden. All participants accept those risks and agree that they alone are responsible for the health and safety for themselves and others in their group. Participants, by their use of the properties, acknowledge that they hold the property owners, MNRC, TVHRC, its officers and members harmless and free of any liability for accidents, injuries or damage to their persons or vehicles. Entering any of the properties is further subject to the participants' agreement to be held fully responsible for any damage, accidental or otherwise, to the property and any animals, facilities, buildings or equipment located on the property.
13. Enjoy these wonderful properties but PLEASE, be courteous to the landowners and their neighbors.
14. MOST IMPORTANT, if grounds and grasses are still very dry, then NO USE OF 209/22 BLANKS in any winger. Fire moves very quickly and we don't want anyone to get hurt or lose their life.
15. PLEASE PICK UP AFTER YOUR DOGS!! Especially on groomed grounds! Use Porta Potty on property if available for yourself!!

Sheep in McCall

Grazing sheep has been an important part of Idaho since the 1890s, and McCall is a part of that history. Sheep were brought to the mountains to graze in the summer months and moved back to lower country before winter closed the area in the fall. This activity preceded the establishment of the National Forests during the early twentieth century, and when these Forests were established, grazing continued under permit. Numbers of permitted sheep are monitored and grazing is carefully managed on public land. In recent decades, sheep numbers have been reduced due to conflicts between domestic sheep and wild bighorn sheep on the Payette National Forest. The introduction of gray wolves on the Forest has further complicated sheep grazing.

Sheep are normally brought into Long Valley between late May and July, depending on snow conditions in upper elevations. Once they arrive, the sheep are moved out of the valley and onto their summer grounds very quickly. The sheep are separated into bands of 400 to 800, and these bands move through the forest, grazing as they go. Each band is tended by Peruvian shepherders, who live and camp with the sheep, along with guard dogs (often these dogs are Great Pyrenees). Shepherders and dogs keep the sheep moving, and guard the bands from wolves, which are a serious threat.

Several of the training grounds are owned by Soulen Livestock Company, which uses the land to offload sheep in the summer and to gather and ship sheep in the fall. The time when sheep come down from the high country is variable, usually determined by weather. This year, sheep are expected to come down late in October, but this is only an early estimate. Remember, these properties are owned by the livestock company. We are allowed to use the grounds as a courtesy. We enjoy a good relationship with the company which also provides the grounds for the annual McCall Hunt Test, held in mid-July. This is one of the largest and most popular hunt tests in the west. Treasure Valley Hunting Retriever Club is appreciative of the company, and we appreciate your cooperation if you use these areas.

If you selected one of these properties through the lottery, you need to be aware and follow some basic rules:

1. THE PRESENCE OF SHEEP TAKES PRECEDENCE OVER OUR USE AS A TRAINING SITE.

2. If sheep are present when you arrive in the morning, plan to train elsewhere, perhaps on one of the public areas or an unallocated private training site. If sheep arrive while you are training, kennel your dogs, gather your equipment, and move to another area.

3. If sheep are present, do not let your dogs out. If they move into an area, as soon as they show up, kennel your dogs. Regardless of what species of dogs are accompanying the sheep, they are very protective. As noted earlier, these dogs protect sheep from wolf attacks, and they will be just as protective of any other canine presence.

4. Shepherders are often Peruvian, here for the season. Their English skills may be limited. Our advice is to not engage the herders unless they come to talk to you. Guard dogs will also be protective of their sheep from humans.

Please do not over react to this warning. Some of the very best training grounds are owned by the livestock company, and chances are excellent that sheep will not be present. We just want you to understand what you need to do if sheep are present. Each individual write-up for training areas will note whether that area is a possible sheep area. And by the way, if sheep are present on an area, they will likely be moved quickly, so the area may be available again soon.
