Welcome

Greetings and welcome to the 2011 Master National Hunt Test hosted by the Susquehanna Retriever Club and held on Anatidae Farm and other local properties. This marks the 20th Anniversary of the first Master National and we're honored to be your host!

This year's event is expected to be the biggest ever with well over 700 dogs qualified to compete. The property owners have put a great deal of effort into improving their properties, including new roads, new ponds, and a new pavilion built specifically for making this event successful. Dorchester County is pleased to have everyone visit our wonderful county. Please be respectful to landowners, hotels and businesses alike, and PLEASE help by volunteering to work in the field during the event. Your help is absolutely necessary to pull off such a large event. Thank you for doing your part to help make this the BEST event ever.

Good luck and congratulations for qualifying for this year's 20th Anniversary Master National!

Frank Durham,
Chairman 20th Anniversary Master National Hunt Test
President, Susquehanna Retriever Club

Land Use Rules

We are fortunate to have some wonderful properties to use for pre-event training. The owners of these properties have been most gracious to allow us to use their properties. If you are fortunate enough to run into a landowner, PLEASE make sure to THANK THEM!

Below are some applicable rules:

-  Close ALL gates that you open
-  No smoking outside vehicles; no grilling or fires
-  Stay on roads whenever possible (MUST stay on roads if raining); avoid culverts
-  Do not use glass containers
-  Do not leave any trash (including food and shotgun shells) behind
-  If you have a small group, please invite others to join you!
-  Please be considerate and leave the properties better than you found them

BEWARE: you may encounter gopher holes, muskrat holes, snakes and deep cracks. Please prepare your training setups just like you would an event. Please walk your setups to avoid any injuries or hazards!!!!

Club History

Susquehanna Retriever Club is a non-profit retriever club now based on the Eastern Shore of Maryland. The club was established in 1989, was sanctioned by the American Kennel Club in 1991, and was an original member club of the Master National Retriever Club, joining also in 1991.

Originally the club was based in the northern Maryland and Pennsylvania area of the Susquehanna River. The original By-laws and Constitution of the club were written by Mary White, who together with her husband, Mike White, were founding members of the SRC.

The SRC holds 2 Hunt Tests annually, which are very well coordinated and attended. The club proudly owns enough equipment to set up for all three series of Master dogs, as well as both series of Junior or Senior dogs at one time.

Besides putting on great tests, we are known for our hospitality as we have hot and cold home-made breakfasts and lunches for purchase at every test. This tradition was started by Herb (aka "Smitty", aka "Pappy") and Evelyn Smith, who are also founding members. All four founding members established a strong platform for long-term success and the club still today tries to uphold the embedded traditions they all started. Sadly, both Smitty and Mary are no longer with us and we miss them deeply.

Today the club has approximately 45 members, mainly living on the eastern shore of Maryland or Delaware, but some members still live in the Susquehanna area. We can be found on the internet at www.susquehannaretriever.com.

This year, the SRC is honored to host the 2011 Master National, with the SRC President, Frank Durham, selected as the Chairman of the 2011 Master National Retriever Hunt Test. Many members and the Chairman have competed in and been involved with MNRHT events for many years. In the near future the club is looking to expand to host Super Retriever Series as well as some Field Trial stakes. We welcome any and all who share the love of working retrievers and are interested to join our club.

Eastern Shore Towns of Maryland

The Eastern Shore of Maryland has a terrific collection of historic and scenic small towns. You can spend a fun week (or more) driving or sailing from one to the next. The towns are listed here roughly in order from north to south. Have fun exploring the Eastern Shore!

Chesapeake City, MD: a picturesque small town on the C and D Canal (which connects the Chesapeake and Delaware Bays). See ocean-going ships sail through the center of town. The historic downtown is on the southern side of the canal.

Dover, DE: the capital of Delaware has several historic sites, arts performances, the Dover International Speedway, and Dover Downs Casino.

Chestertown, MD: historic town on the banks of the Chester River. An important port of entry for colonial settlers to Maryland. See the 18th century homes and shop in the interesting stores. Don't miss the Schooner Sultana.

Rock Hall, MD: 15 marinas make this a favorite destination of boaters. Colonial travelers went by ferry from Annapolis to Rock Hall, and there are cruises that make the same trip today. Lots of shops and restaurants. Learn about working on the water at the Waterman's Museum.

St Michaels, MD: this waterfront town is overrun with tourists ... but they have good reasons for visiting. The setting is beautiful, the Chesapeake Bay Maritime Museum is excellent, and there are shops, restaurants, and luxury hotels catering to the crowds.

Tilghman Island, MD: surrounded by the Chesapeake Bay, and a great stop if you are cruising the Bay. Tilghman Island is a true working watermen's village with excellent fishing and fresh seafood. It's also home to the last commercial sailing fleet in North America, the skipjacks, which are on display at Dogwood Harbor.

Easton, MD: another historic town, and this one is especially quaint. Do the walking tour and visit the shops. This is the home of the famous annual Easton Waterfowl Festival.

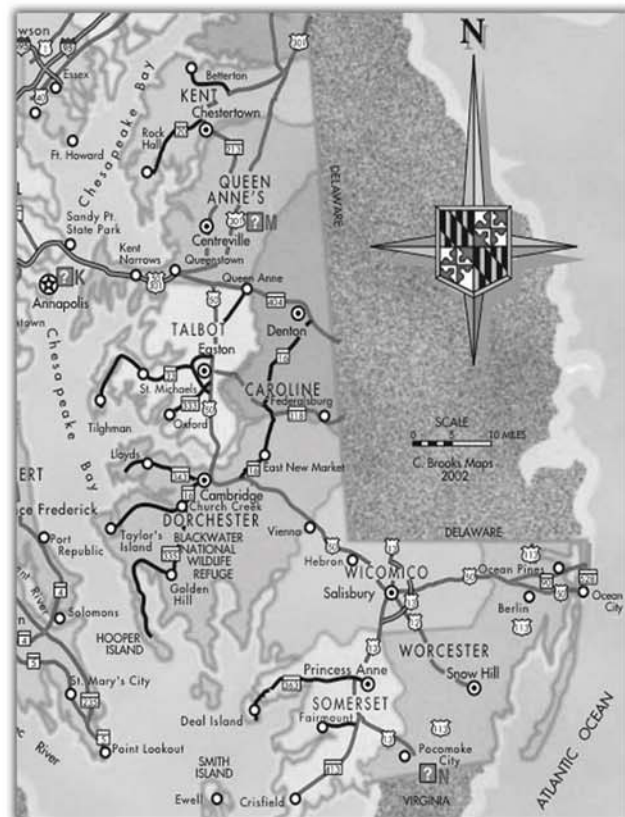

Oxford, MD: a quiet little town located near the mouth of the Tred Avon River. This charming village has true colonial era history. Tour the replica Customs House. 6 marinas attract boaters.

Cambridge, MD: another very old town (settled 1684). Three museums, the Skipjack Nathan, Sailwinds Park, and a fishing pier are attractions. This is also the home of the Hyatt Regency Chesapeake Bay marina and golf resort.

Salisbury, MD: is the central "city" for the Eastern Shore. You'll find chain stores, chain hotels, and chain restaurants here.

Ocean City MD: Maryland's big oceanfront resort. Big hotels, nightclubs, and amusements. Mobbed every summer weekend.

Crisfield, MD: it's a long drive to Crisfield from just about anywhere, but many visitors arrive by boat. The Somers Cove Marina is huge. This is a good place to buy crabs.
